COLLECTING ODD OVERCOATS HIS FAD WHEN DRUNK

White Haired Man Says He Can't Resist Appeal of Top Garment.

Picks One Up in Lobby of the Palmer House.

HE IS A PAROLED PRISONER.

Possessed of a mania for stealing overcoats, Sam Howard, 60 years old, was arrested this morning by Paducah E. C. Carter for stealing an overcoat from the Palmer House early this morning. It was a feather in the cap for the police department, as in the arrest of Howard it is believed that they have the man, who is responsible for several overcoats that have been stolen recently. Howard readily admitted his guilt.

Early this morning S. M. Miller, of Louisville, placed his overcoat with his baggage in the lobby of the Palmer House preparatory to leaving on the early morning train for Louisville. In a few minutes Howard walked through the lobby, and, seeing the overcoat, he picked it up and walked out with it. In a few minutes the coat was missed, but the hotel was so full that nobody realized that Howard was stealing the coat. The theft was reported to the police. The night patrolmen were unable to find a man answering the description of Howard.

This morning about 7:30 o'clock Chief of Police Slattery received a tip that a man with a black overcoat was in the vicinity of Broadway street and Broadway. He detained Howard, and in less than ten minutes Howard was under arrest. When taken to the police station Howard said he took the overcoat from the Palmer House.

From appearances he has been on a spree and talked freely to the police. He told Chief Slattery that he was sent to the Illinois state penitentiary from Cairo for arson, but last August was paroled. Now he wants to return to the penitentiary, as he said he does not feel like a free man. Chief Slattery sent a telegram to the warden at the penitentiary at Chester, Ill., informing him of the arrest.

Howard is known to the police. When drinking he seems to have a mania for stealing overcoats. Police Captain Frank Harlan remembers of arresting him many years ago for stealing an overcoat. Last week an overcoat was stolen from Perron's restaurant and the description of the man suspected given by the proprietor of the restaurant fit Howard. The police believe he is the man.

Howard has a gray mustache and his hair is gray. He says he is 60 years old. It is said that he came here from Murray many years ago, and at one time was in good circumstances. His appetite for strong drink caused his downfall, and since he has been wandering around over the country.

He was fined 11 and costs in police court this morning on the charge of drunkenness. He will be held until the Illinois officials are heard from. The theft of the overcoat from Perron's restaurant will be investigated, as it is believed that he has sold the overcoat. The overcoat stolen from Mr. Miller was sent to him today in Louisville and it is not known whether he will prosecute the case.

Telegram Received.

Chief Slattery received a telegram this afternoon from Chester, Ill. The name of Howard was contained as Sam Howard White in the telegram, and the warden wired that the man probably was Sam Howard. He said he had mailed a photograph, but did not give any advice to hold the prisoner.

Kicked to Death By Colt.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 1.—Near Louisville, Ky., appeared in a new guise in Chicago last night. This time he was a black man, flourishing a shooting iron. Mr. I. B. Chamberlain reported him to the police today. He says a man waited in his office and when he appeared held him up at the point of a revolver. "I want $50 and if you don't get it I will shoot to kill," he remarked. "I am doing this because my wife and children need money. I'll pay it."

Ballinger-Pinchot Hearing is Postponed Until Secretary Can Bring Counsel Before Committee

Delay Granted at Session This Morning at His Request—German Tariff Agreement is Completed.

Washington, Feb. 4.—When the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee met this morning it went immediately into executive session to determine the course of the day's proceedings.

According to an announcement from the white house this afternoon, the Ballinger-Pinchot hearing will be hereafter represented by John J. Vertrees, a prominent Democratic lawyer of Tennessee, and Carl Hirsch, former district attorney of Montana. Vertrees arrived today and is now in conference with Secretary Hallinger. He was introduced by his friend, Secretary Dickinson. Hirsch is now spending in Washington from the far west. Secretary Hallinger announced this afternoon he won't make a public statement, as he intended. He said he will not discuss it until he is on the stand under oath.

Acting upon a receipt of a letter from Secretary of the Interior Hallinger, in which he said he wished time in which to arrange for counsel, the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee today, after an hour's executive session, adjourned, not to meet again until next Friday.

Hirsch was selected because of his wide knowledge of the land laws and because of his wider experience in land cases. He was hurriedly summoned by telegram last night. Secretary Hallinger did not stay at the white house for today's regular cabinet meeting, but left with Vertrees, who is his own personal counsel, to consult with other interior department officials.

DETECTIVES

FORMER CHIEF COLLINS AND CAPTAIN MOORE UNITE.

Former Chief of Police James Collins can not keep out of the game. Now he and Detective T. J. Moore have formed a partnership and are preparing to open a private detective agency in the city. They have rented an office in the rear of the sheriff's office on South Fourth street, and are having it remodeled. They announce that they will take only private work and in no way will interfere or hinder the police department in its work.

The new firm will co-operate with detective agencies on a client basis, and will work in connection with the Pinkerton agency. In Paducah there is a splendid field for a private detective agency, and there is no doubt that the two sleuths will make it a success. The new firm will bear the name of Collins & Moore.

Chief Collins is well known to everybody in Paducah. When he retired as chief of police last month he had an offer from the Pinkerton agency to open a branch office in the city, but he declined. He wanted to take a rest, but the call of police work has been too strong and he yielded. Mr. Moore has been connected with the Paducah police force as detective and lieutenant, but for the last eighteen months has done private detective work. He built up a business that was larger than he could care for himself, and it resulted in the new firm being organized.

Former Chief Collins said: "I want it understood that this firm will not interfere or conflict with the work of the police department. We will do the work of a private detective agency, and believe there is a good field open to us."

SEN. W. V. EATON NOT MOTT'S PAL

HOWEVER, HE SAYS HE WAS NOT SLAPPING AT SERGEANT-AT-ARMS.
State Senator W. V. Eaton is in the city today, having arrived to spend today and Saturday looking after private business. He will return to Frankfort Sunday. Senator Eaton denied that he and Mott Ayns, sergeant-at-arms of the senate, are on unfriendly terms over a personal matter. Senator Eaton admitted they were not "pals," but stated that his motion to permit the senate to pay certain claims instead of the sergeant-at-arms of the senate had been misunderstood, when Senator Arnett accused him of reflecting on Ayns. He explained that his motion was put simply to settle a controversy, and so that by the senate clerk paying out the money it should be shown who was getting the money and what it was paid out for.

DR. WILEY GIVES PUBLIC ADVICE

WAINS PEOPLE NOT TO BECOME FOOD FADDISTS.

Tells Folks What to Eat and Combinations That Are Most Helpful

ARE BUILT FOR MIXED DIET.

"Don't turn food-crank because the things you like have risen in price.
"Don't boycott meat because steaks are expensive. If you do, you may get sick, because your teeth and your digestive apparatus were built for a mixed diet.
"Eat more canned goods; they are cheaper than ever before.
"If combinations continue to control the prices of food products the government may be obliged to enact anti-high-profit laws similar to those aimed against usury."
DR. HARVEY W. WILEY,
Chief of Bureau of Chemistry.

Washington, Feb. 3. (United Press).—Dr. Wiley's advice to the housekeeper in the present financial crisis brought about in the family purse by the high cost of living, is to abstain from worry and buy everything she has been buying—only not so much of it.

"A ten cent soup bone will flavor half a bushel of potatoes," said Dr. Wiley, "and will, if cooked right, taste just as good as a dollar steak. With the addition of an onion, a carrot and a sprig of parsley, that soup bone can be made to produce enough good, nourishing soup for a big family. Then, after the soup is made, save a little of the fluid and boil it down in the kettle with the meat. Then you'll have a 'pot roast' which, if made right, will be fit to set before the president.

"Canned goods of all kinds are cheaper than ever before in our history. Beans and peas have not risen appreciably in price, and make the best food for man. Wheat flour at the price it is now selling is the cheapest food that can be bought, and corn meal hasn't changed in price for the last ten years.

"If the American cook would study the methods of the French cook, who uses up all the 'left overs,' you would not hear so much about the increased cost of living. The average American cook throws away or wastes enough to keep the ordinary French family going. Over there they save every scrap of fat and every crumb of bread, and convert them into appetizing dishes. They know how to make the most out of the cheaper cuts of meat. Over here the average cook turns up his or her nose at the coarser grades of meat and thinks that nothing is fit to eat unless it comes from the neighborhood of the tenderloin.

"Of course a great deal of the added cost in the price of meat products has come about as a result of combinations of dealers. The farmer is not getting much more for his cattle than he did ten or fifteen years ago. The government or the state will have to step in one of these days, if these combinations continue to increase the prices, and enact laws prohibiting dealers from making more than a certain amount of profit.
"This suggestion, of course, will be hailed with cries of 'paternalism.' Well, let it be paternalism, if you please. All government is paternal when you come right down to brass tacks. If the government can enact laws declaring the amount of lumber or profit a dealer in money shall make—like the statutes relating to usury—why should it not be justified in setting down the lines for the dealers in the necessities of life? The men who rob the market basket are more criminal than the men who extort money on illegal loans.
"A limit of say fifteen or twenty per cent net profit a year might be set down for the butcher and grocer. The dry goods merchant or the consumer who buys fifteen or twenty per cent net profit a year might be set down for the butcher and grocer. The dry goods merchant or the contractor who builds houses would be glad to make as much, and, if it worked out for the good of the people in the case of the grocer and butcher, might be extended to include the clothier, the shoe dealer, and all other tradesmen handling the necessary goods of life.

Don't Be a Foodist.

"Whatever you do, however, I beg of you not to become a food-faddist. I am therefore opposed to these six months boycotts against meat. The human frame was built for a mixed diet and to cut off meat suddenly is likely to play all kinds of havoc with the system. I have observed that those vegetarians, not eating and uncooked-vietual cranks do not live any longer than the average run of us poor meat-eating mortals. I do know that they all look hungry, and whenever I meet one of them I am tempted to invite him into the nearest restaurant to have a good steak—if I happen to have the price.

"What the present situation requires is a little more judgment in buying, a little more judgment in cooking, and less worry over the food trusts."

Dr. Wiley specializes in eggs. He modestly says he's an expert on hen fruit, and the other day dropped little gems of egg wisdom to the members of the house sub-committee on the District of Columbia, during their consideration of the high cost of food.
The doctor appeared before the committee with about a peck of eggs of varying ages and dubious pasts, a bag of salt and a big glass. In the latter he mixed a strong brine solution.

"If you want to know whether the eggs you are buying are 'strictly fresh' have really been laid this year," he explained, "just take a glass full of full of brine, as I have done, and drop the valuable farm product therein. If it sinks to the bottom of the glass, the egg is fresh and worth the money; if it rises to somewhere near the top of the fluid, it is not as fresh as it should be, and if it floats well out of the water, it is of the sort that are supposed to be hurled at bad actors and isn't worth anything a dozen."

The committee was interested immediately, and crowded around the doctor as he proceeded to test the eggs he had brought.
"That's a fine, fresh egg," he observed, as one of the specimens dropped plump to the bottom.
"How do you know it is fresh?" asked Congressman Moore (Rep. Pa.).
"Because one of my inspectors was at the hen house this morning and saw it laid," replied the doctor triumphantly.

News of Theatres

At the Star.
The last half of the week at the Star theater commences today, the vaudeville bill is headed by the Bon-Air Trio, acrobatic pantomimists, introducing all of the best tricks known to the acrobatic world, accomplishing all kinds of twisting and lofty tumbling, mingled in the gymnastic feats is a vein of comedy which makes the act enjoyable and relieves the monotony which too often accompanies straight acrobatic acts, an original finish, introducing electrical effects of vari-colored lights.
Emmett Martin, a black face artist, if as good as his press notices proclaim him, should keep the audience laughing from the jump.
Mitchell and Willard have a good comedy sketch full of comedy, singing and funny talk. The Nashville Banner gave this act very high praise while they were playing at the Fifth Avenue theater last week.
Mr. Frank Long will give an illustrated song and the moving pictures will consist of a biography and a Pathe. The admission will be only 10 cents, children five cents. Performances, afternoon 2:30 and 3:30, night 7:30 and 9:00.

JOKER IS FOUND IN SENATE RULES

AFTER VIGILANT SEARCH ON PART OF MEMBERS.

Rule Committee's "Dog"—Can Advance Any Bill at Any Time, Holding Others Back.

MEN BEHIND THE GUNS

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 3.—Although it required fully four weeks of vigilant search on the part of members of the general assembly, who do not live in cities and who have not lined up with the whiskey crowd in the senate and house, to discover the "real joker" in the senate rules, the discovery has been made in rule 50, paragraph 2, as follows:

"The rules committee is further authorized and shall have the right at any time, to call from any other committee or committees any bill or resolution in their hands and have the same advanced to the reading to which the same may be entitled, and a report or expression of opinion from the committee on rules on any such bill, resolution or measure may be made and shall be in lieu of the report of any committee having had under consideration any such bill, resolution or measure."

The senate, therefore, is absolutely in the hands of the senate committee on rules, for the committee has the power to take from any other committee a bill that has been referred to it and report the bill favorably or unfavorably, or without expression. If reported unfavorably, then as paragraph 9 of rule 42:

"When a bill or resolution has been reported to the senate by a committee having come under consideration under an expression of opinion that the same should not pass, then in that event the same shall not be advanced to its third reading unless done by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to the senate."

Thus it requires a two-thirds vote of the senate, and if taken out of the hands of the committee and not reported, then such action postpones indefinitely further consideration of the bill.

The following were the members of the senate rules and the men who named the senate committee:

Conn. Linn, president pro tem of senate.
Thomas A. Combs, chairman of Democratic caucus.
The members of the committee on rules are:
Conn. Linn, chairman, Murray, Thomas A. Combs, Lexington, Mark Ryan, Louisville, L. W. Arnold, Covington, G. T. Wyatt, Logan county, Herman Newcomb, Louisville, J. F. Bowser, Middleboro.

WOULD DROP DYNAMITE ON TOWN OF MANAGIA.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 3.—The destruction of Managua with 50 pounds of nitro-glycerine dropped from a dirigible will win the Nicaraguan war for the revolutionists, unless the plans of Harry McGill, the Ohio aviator, miscarry. McGill, who announced today that all arrangements are satisfactorily completed between himself and Estrada for making the McGill "aero squad," tells how it will happen. "It will be a simple matter," said he, "according to my calculations. I know I can carry 50 pounds extra weight with ease, dropping it from the height of 1,000 feet and getting away without being detected. I will do it at night and I don't doubt that it will be the easiest money I have ever earned."

a man when he reaches that stage, have decided that before him "looms but the horror of the shade"? Must he have become so engrossed with the love of this life that when pleasure palls or the means of gratification is taken away, there is nothing left for him? Or does he, with full appreciation of the consequences of his deed, take the plunge and leave eternity, that those he loves on earth may continue to enjoy the best of earth's goods?

The last theory is scarcely tenable without some relation to the second. Too many people, fortified by strong convictions, have been able to meet adversity with a smile and make a blessing of it for themselves and for others, to permit our advancement of a deliberate suicide with heroic virtues. We may condone or extenuate the deed, and attribute to the doer such merit as he deserves; but that life is wasted for the possessor of it and his neighbors, which is devoted to the mere regulation of material things.

On the other hand, the "fell grip of circumstance" and the "blindings of chance" may be hardly understood; but when a man has a family to consider, he is often sorely tempted for their sakes to do that which on the face of it is cowardly, especially if he is in the beginning enough of a moral coward to care more about what others think he is, than he does about what he himself knows he is.

Our Socialist friends will see in this case the spectacle of a man standing alone among millions of his fellowmen, playing for himself and his family as if there were no other human beings in the world. Indeed, under our competitive system, his fellow creatures assuming shape among the circumstances against which he must fight—and when he fails, exasperated, as inevitably ninety-nine in every hundred must, he falls victim to those, who also will fall victim to others. He must needs play the game alone, and if he would win, he must be ruthless, either with others, or, as in this case, with himself.

But the case doesn't fit a condition pressing a French revolution. Here was a man able to carry $15,000 life insurance. He had a job when he died. Probably he lived up his income, as most people do. Men, drawing smaller salaries than he did when he shot himself, have saved a home and educated their children. Men in better circumstances than he was at his best, have lost all and adapted themselves to the "sweet uses of adversity."

Very poor, weak human nature, we must pity we have for the fellow who gets a look at life from the wrong angle. Whether he be the trust magnate, seeking to acquire more for his interests; the socialist, who hopes to take it away from the magnate; or the plain, honest man, who strives to give his family "all the advantages," if he looks too much to himself and too little to his fellowman, if he thinks of his own welfare and not of the others, if he divides the world's goods into two classes—that, which is mine, and that, which is not mine—he has already committed suicide as far as being of any further value in the world is concerned, and wants only the final shove of adversity over the brink into the shade.

There is a lesson for wives in this case; their duty of economic thinking. Most men, who have grown wealthy by their own energy, realize that, while they made it, their wives saved it. It is when birds and people work in pairs that nests and homes are made the birthplace and the refuge of song. The best things in life are not bought for birds or people, but a cage, gilded though it may be, is a poor substitute for a nest on a bough. We are doing more complaining about high prices than we are thinking about stopping the waste. One man insured his life and shot himself. Let us add this closing tribute to his memory, he did the logical thing when the time came.

Republican Success in 1911.

What hope has the Republican party in Kentucky of carrying the election of 1911? Two weeks ago this query was answered by showing that the domination of the state Democracy by the Whallens, of Louisville, will prove so odious to the out-in-the-state voters, that a decided drift toward the Republicans will result, and, in fact already is apparent.

In the legislature any candid observer now sees a cleavage between the Democrats who accept the Whallen mystery, and those who find in them and their lamentable business, a menace to the moral sense of the commonwealth.

But we can come home, right in our own Third district, and find convincing proof of the inevitable split in the ranks of the Democratic party. In the last issue of the Todd County Times, Democratic, published at Elkton, we note:

"We entertain some very serious doubts as to the Democratic party in the state making a success through allying itself with John Whallen. Some things are all right in Louisville that don't sit well on the Lucile stomach."

This is sufficiently strong on its face not to need elaborate analysis. On the other side of the district, we find Editor Richardson, of the Glasgow Times, reprinting J. C. W. Beckham's vigorous editorials against the Democratic machine leaders in the legislature.

"Every Kentuckian should subscribe to the Frankfort State Journal because it is the only paper in the state giving a true account of the doings of the legislature."

Now these two Democratic papers have had the courage of their convictions thus early in the situation. Hundreds of other Democratic editors think as strongly but for one reason or another have not seen fit to speak. They will not swallow Whallenism, but are waiting in hopes that the Democratic majority will act sensibly in the legislature, and that the party leaders will eliminate Whallen of their own accord.

In the Courier-Journal last week a great to-do was made over the fact that Whallen is not opposed to a bill allowing a change in Louisville's school system. What difference did it make what Whallen thought about the bill? Well, it made the difference between success and defeat, because Whallen dominates the Democratic legislative machine.

The whole state has watched with amazement the vicious fight the Democratic senate and house leaders have made against the assignment of the county unit bill to a fair committee. If the unwholesome leaders think it is so vital to stifle the county unit bill in committee they must indeed feel strongly on the subject. Or else, as Editor Richardson exclaims, they are hearing their master's voice.

Every week the situation clears measurably in favor of another Republican state victory in 1911. The high-handed methods of the machine in the legislature are giving the state a taste of what would happen if they should be returned to power in the state offices. The Republicans of every district should prepare for a decisive onslaught in every election, as the chances for success are flattering in the extreme.—Third District Review (Bowling Green.)

Our Senators.

We take the following editorials from the Mayfield Messenger, as they deal with facts relating to our county and in which the people are directly interested:

It seems that all of the senators from this end of the state are very closely allied with the main interests of the state.

Senator Taylor, who represented the counties of Hickman, Fulton and Graves, is allied against the county unit bill; Senator Eaton, who represents McCracken, Marshall, Ballard and Carlisle, is also against the county unit bill; Senator Linn, who represents Calloway, Livingston, Lyon and Trigg, is also one of the champions against the county unit bill; Senator Callett, who represents Caldwell, Crittenden and Webster, is also lined up against this measure.

Notwithstanding at least five to one of the constituents of these four senators are heartily in favor of the county unit bill, yet they are not only against it but are on the side of the element which wants to defeat the bill without letting it come to a vote in the senate or in the open. It is strange that those gentlemen will oppose a measure which their constituents so strongly favors.—Arlington Courier.

Stanley for Governor.

It has been said that Mr. Stanley wanted an endorsement for another term in congress for the effect it would have on the race which he is going to make for governor. He got the endorsement all right, and no doubt several gubernatorial aspirants are wondering already if it really means that he is going to be a candidate for governor.—Owensboro Inquirer.

THE PUBLIC FORUM.

More Producers Are Needed.

It will some day be discovered that the real reason for the present crisis in our affairs is caused by the desire of young men and women to get along in the world without producing anything. The country has been depopulated and the cities flooded with young people whose ambition it is to make a living with their brains rather than with their hands. Every city has an army of clerks, salesgirls, salesmen, stenographers, maudslaves, and what not, who produce absolutely nothing, and add not a single penny to the wealth of the community in which they live.

In the legislature any candid observer now sees a cleavage between the Democrats who accept the Whallen mystery, and those who find in them and their lamentable business, a menace to the moral sense of the commonwealth.

But we can come home, right in our own Third district, and find convincing proof of the inevitable split in the ranks of the Democratic party. In the last issue of the Todd County Times, Democratic, published at Elkton, we note:

In recognition of February 3 as the birthday of Sidney Lanier, the poet and musician, the Literature department of the Woman's club presented an attractive literary and musical program yesterday afternoon
at its open meeting.

Miss Helen Bullitt Lowry, chairman of the department, presided and introduced the program with a brilliant discussion of "The Relation of Poetry to Present Day Life."

Miss Newell, chairman of the Music department, followed with a charm-

poetry and briefly sketched the cycle of songs by American poets that were to be rendered as program numbers.

"Little Boy Blue," by Eugene Fields, and "There, Little Girl, Don't Cry," by James Whitcomb Riley, were sung with most sympathetic charm by Miss Anna Hill.

"A Lover's Envy," words by Henry Van Dyke, was beautifully sung by Miss Anna Bradshaw.

The third number was Sidney Lan-ier's "Ballad of the Trees and the Master," exquisitely rendered by Miss Anna Bradshaw. Mrs. S. T. Hubbard,
Mr. John P. Robinson and Mr. Robert

SISTERLY HOPE OF MRS. CASSADY

She Writes, Telling Her Experience
With Cardui, the Woman's Tonic,
and How It Cured Her.

Bringinghurst, Ind.—"For three years" writes Mrs. Jennie Cassidy, of Bring-inghurst, Ind., "I suffered from irritable weakness.

"I had serious female complaint,
and was so bad I could hardly get around, but I took Cardui and it brought me great relief. It cured that awful misery, from which I suf-

Charge Unjust Rates.

Washington, Feb. 4.—A complaint
was filed with the Interstate commerce commission by the Laredo (Texas) board of trade against several railroads, alleging that unjust discriminatory rates, on general
freight were charged against the meat
freight and manufacturers of Laredo,
if the complainant's contention is upheld it probably will mean the inad-justment of all the freight rates to Texas points from the north and east.

deedmen, no matter whether sold directly by a waiter, barkeeper or by

ZELAYA OFF TO BELGIUM.
Shows Long Life to Working Classes
as He Leaves.

Mexico City, Feb. 4.—A delayed telegram to Mexico City announces that Jose Santos Zelaya, who went to Vera Cruz Sunday night, sailed Tuesday evening for Belgium. His ticket read to Vigo, Spain, and he is aboard the German steamer Alemania. The telegram said that Zelaya was a son of face and uncommunicative while in Vera Cruz. From the deck of the steamer he shouted:

"Long live the working classes;
long live the hospitality of the Mexican nation!" In response to cries of "viva Zelaya!" from a crowd of laboring people along the docks.

FRGE OPENING WATER POWER.

Sites Withdrawn by Ballinger Ought to Be Opened, Says Westerner.

Washington, Feb. 4.—J. J. Brown, of Spokane, Wash., a representative of the Western Conservation league,
had an interview with President Taft in which he urged the early opening of water power sites which have been withdrawn by Secretary Ballinger,
and his predecessors in the interior department. Mr. Brown argued that the use of the water would materially tend to conserve the timber and coal of the country which was now being used to create power.

President Taft had indicated that he was anxious at this session to have the law validating withdrawals
of water power sites passed, saying that the law as to the disposition of the sites could wait if necessary.

SALT LAKE OVERFLOWING.

Rise Undeclared; Threatens to Flood Trains.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 4.—
Word has been received from Ogden that the Great Salt Lake, which was said six years ago to be disappearing, is dashing over the western end of the Southern Pacific lunch cut-off and threatening trains. The lake is now higher than at any time within the memory of white men. The west end of the cut-off being six feet lower than the rest of the causeway, it is the chief danger point. If the lake continues to rise it will be necessary to elevate most of the piling and in the meantime to send trains around by the old promontory route.

When the lunch cut-off was constructed, the track was 29 feet above
the water level.

Scientists say that the lake rises and recedes in cycles and that the recession will soon begin.

Insuring His Honesty.
A shrewd old Vermont farmer came into a lawyer's office the other day, and proceeded to relate the circumstances in a matter about which he thought it would be profitable to "go to law."
"You think I've got a good case?" he finally asked.
"Very good, indeed!" the lawyer assured him. "You should certainly bring suit."
"What would your fee be for the whole thing?" the old farmer asked.
"Fifty dollars," was the prompt response.
The client pulled out an old wallet, extracted a roll of bills, and counted out fifty dollars.
"Now," he said, "you've got all you would get out of this case any-how, so 's'pose you tell me honestly just what you think of my chances of winning a suit are?" The green bag.

Taft APPROVES REVISED PROGRAM

MEASURES HE WANTS CONGRESS TO ENACT.

"Insurgents" in Line to Help Push
Some of the Measures, and War
Will Not Interfere.

WHAT THE BILLS PROVIDE.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The administration program, revised by the leaders of the senate and house and given the stamp of white house approval, comprises the following legislation:

Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico in the form of a new senate bill, which provides for the ratification by congress of the constitution of the new states after the approval
by the president.

Federal savings banks, with safeguards against funds being transferred from the sections where they are originally deposited to money centers.

Authorizing the president to withdraw from every public lands desired for conservation purposes and for classification.

Federal incorporation, open to voluntary application of concerns engaged in interstate business, and willing to subscribe to the federal regulation.

Creating a court of commerce and amending the interstate commerce act.

Creating a legislative council for Alaska.

All the measures are designated to be enacted if the influence of Taft and the leaders in charge of the machinery of the senate and house are powerful enough to carry the program through. There is no indication of a division of Republican along
"insurgent" and "regular" lines, although individuals in both factions may oppose some features of the bill.

Later other measures may be added which are now deemed secondary.
Taft is inclined to come out strongly for the ship subsidy, and may urge a bill providing for certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $20,000
to raise money for reclamation work.

The Republican members of the senate committee on finance had a meeting today in advance of the regular session. Aldrich talked plainly about the party situation by reason of the opposition to certain platform pledges, enforced unequivocally by Taft since he has assumed the presidency.

36,000,000 EGGS

IN THE COOL STORAGE NOW IN JERSEY CITY.

Alleged Conspiracy to Raise the Price of Poultry and Produce Charged.

New York, Feb. 3.—There are 36-
000,000 eggs in one cold storage warehouse in Jersey City, according to information given to the grand jury in the investigation of packing and other concerns maintaining extensive warehouses on the New Jersey side of the Hudson. The eggs have been there since last March. It was learned, with 100,000 pounds of poultry stored since last April.
The managers of the Union Terminal Cold Storage company and officers of other refrigerating companies are summoned before the grand jury Friday.

If a conspiracy to raise prices is shown, indictments are likely to be returned against those responsible for holding meat, eggs and other foodstuffs in storage.

Young Men in the Commons.

In connection with the question which has arisen as to who is the youngest candidate at the present election, it may be recalled that in 1613 there were no fewer than forty gentlemen not more than 40, and some not exceeding 16, who had seats in the house of commons. Hatfield in his "precedents" remarks
that the poet Waller, among others, sat in parliament (1622) before he was 17 years of age. A statute of William III makes void the election of any person who is not 21 years of age, but members under age have been occasionally admitted, notwithstanding the provisions of this act.
Charles James Fox was returned and sat at the age of 19, but Chesterfield under similar circumstances, received from the ministry of the day, whom he had attacked, a hint that he must withdraw.—Westminster Gazette.

One is not necessarily en route to glory because he has turned his back on other slanders.

BIG INCREASE IN FARM PRODUCTS

PRESENT PRODUCTION WILL BE DOUBLED.

Scientific Methods Used—People of Kansas Not Worried About the High Cost of Living.

WILL CHARGE AS THEY PLEASE

Chicago, Feb. 3.—A doubling of the present production of farm products is in sight, according to Prof.
B. C. Huffman, of Worland, Wyo., who is a pioneer in the science of seed breeding.

"We already have practically doubled the yield of corn by selection and plant breeding," said Prof.
Huffman yesterday, "but we need not stop with corn as we can deal with all other crops in a similar way. The reason that this has not been done earlier is that plant breeding has been utilized heretofore mainly for the production of curiosities. Men who brought out anything new were called 'wizards.' Few saw any practical value in what was being done.
Much was accomplished in an esthetic way with reference to improvements of flowers, but the great farm crops were neglected."

"As Mark Twain said in 'Pudden-head Wilson': 'Training is everything. The peach was once a bitter almond and cauliflower is nothing but cabbage with a college education.' Plant breeding supplies this 'college education' to the pebbles of the vegetable world, and therefore by increasing crop yields, promises more than anything else with reference to a growth of the world's permanent wealth."

Kansas Farmers Happy.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—"The cost of living, is a secondary consideration to the people of Kansas," said Foster Dwight Coburn, secretary of the Kansas state board of agriculture,
yesterday.

"Guess we'll have to plead guilty to the charge of doing pretty well," said Mr. Coburn, "but I don't see that the farmer is responsible for the high prices on necessities. I know if working early and late makes him deserve the prices he gets for his products that he deserves them, and if you are willing to pay 60 cents for corn he would be a chump to sell it for 30 cents."

"There must be some blame somewhere for the high cost of living.
But the farmer has never set the price on one of his products. He brings his steers to market and takes what is offered him. If he don't do this he must take his cattle home again, and that means bankruptcy."
"Out our way we're not worrying about it. We ride around in automobiles, and within the last week a farmer in the wheat belt paid $7-000 for an airstrip. But we're not crowding out the horses at that.
Horses were never such good property nor so highly esteemed as at present."

GRAY HAIR BANISHED.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy and gradually restored the natural color. One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days on account of it sour-ing quickly. This objection has been overcome and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with an admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow. It is sold by all druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.
For sale and recommended by W. J.
Gilbert, special agent.
